Try Something New!

First Week:

Trying something new can enliven your soul and open you up to more possibilities and opportunities! Trying new things together as a couple can bring you closer together and enrich both of your lives and your relationship with each other! This week your goal is to play a game you have never played before! Make sure neither of you have played it, and then figure out how to play it together!

In-Between Weeks :

Husband ~ Pick out a new restaurant neither of you have been to before. Each of you gets to order something you have never tried before! If it is in the budget share a new dessert too!

Wife ~ Go somewhere new! Have you ever been to a ballet or opera together before? What about hiking, swimming, or running/walking a 5k together? A quick Google search could help you find something new nearby to try together! Be completely spontaneous or do a little planning, either way, remember to have fun!

Friend Week :

Invite another couple or two (or more!) to come over and have a battle of the desserts! Challenge each couple to bring an unusual but delicious dessert to share! Bonus points to the couple who brings the most unusual delicious dessert!
